INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES

Course Purpose & Objectives

This course is designed to provide students with a systematic means to analyse and develop communication and marketing-sponsorship strategies, using concepts and theories from general marketing, and apply them in a sports business context.

With the aim of improving the students' understanding of strategic and brand management concepts, the students will work on business plans and models for sports organisations in order to innovate and construct strong commercial brands.

Marketing decisions on brands and the deployment of communication supports will be at the heart of entrepreneurial choices to create sustainable performance for professional sport organisations. Students will use both logic and creativity to arrive at effective solutions.

Course contribution to Summer School objectives

Students will use both logic and creativity to arrive at effective solutions. At the end of the class, they should be able to:

- Analyse opportunities and alternatives in sports businesses in an open, honest manner
- Identify the customer and market segments that they have chosen and to be competitive in the sports business area
- Demonstrate causal relationships between the attributes of products and/or services, including their organisational image/ reputation.
- Reach conclusions based on demonstrable evidence and analysis to implement a sport marketing strategy

Course contribution to ethical decision making

Students should demonstrate a responsible attitude with respect to society by adopting ethical behaviour in dealing with sports business issues or problems. They should be able to include ethics in the decision-making process and to determine whether a decision is acceptable:

- To introduce students to a global comprehension of sports culture
- To give students a large vision of sports history through different examples
- To introduce students to Sport Marketing and Sponsorship activations
- To give students a strong vision of the media landscape and its role in sport development

Course description

Analyse sports marketing situations and develop strategic decisions in sports marketing, sponsorship and brand communication.

This course will use a variety of professional methods including consulting and professional activities. There will be presentations of professional and personal works and projects in the sport business area from Jean-Philippe Danglade and Lionel Maltese.

COURSE MATERIAL

Detailed class files are provided in class. They contain slides for class presentation, cases or articles to read and prepare for class meetings.

Professors present the session's material and provide in-depth and practical explanation of the main concepts of the course content presented here above.

EVALUATION OF STUDENT PERFORMANCE

COURSE DELIVERABLE	DUE DATE	WEIGHT ON FINAL GRADE
Final Exam: Video and case study (Individual Assessment)	July 3	60 %
In class case study (Group Assessment)	June 26	40%

Individual Assignments (60%)

Final Exam: Video and case study - “New York Cosmos” past and present

Each student will develop an introspective account of a memorable brand experience. Everyone is asked to focus on the internal states they experienced during this brand experience. This account has to be written out in a given chronological order (before, during and after the brand experience) and to cover both what he/she went through individually as well as her/his interactions with the other persons present.

Evaluation grid: Methods Used to Evaluate Student Performance

Variable	Marks	Criteria
Originality	20 %	Description of a brand experience which is able to contribute by its originality to the collective overview
Reflection	60 %	Ability to develop more the emotions and feelings you went through than just the facts that occurred during the brand experience
Ethnography	20 %	Ability to avoid any kind of post-rationalization of the brand experience

Group Assignments (40%)

Each team will choose a project for the course. Several options are possible and will be discussed on the first day of class. Themes and methods are very open but are to be discussed with the professor. This project is open for discussion during our first two meetings. Each group will present his project to the class on the last day (20 minutes presentation) and turn in power point deck.

This project should allow you to display your skills and creativity in sponsorship activations programs issues and your ability to sell a project to partners, key boss or clients.

Your project should include (non-exhaustive):

- Evaluation of brand notoriety and awareness for an existing brand or opportunity evaluation for a new brand.
- Brand Positioning and Brand identity.
- Key branding elements and components.
- Portfolio Analysis (existing brands) and potential brand extensions.
- Target market analysis (quali and quanti).
- Marketing strategy to activation your brand target

ACADEMIC FRAUD

Definition

Academic fraud is a breach of ethics.

“Is achieved using unfair means or deception, to obtain material or undue moral advantage, or with the intent to avoid the enforcement of laws”. (Translated from the original source: Dictionnaire Juridique des Lois, 2010, available at: www.dictionnaire-juridique.com/definition/fraude/php)

Plagiarism consists of attributing authorship by (partial or total) copying, imitation or misappropriation.

The act of fraud is committed by one or more students/participants when they:

- appropriate written or oral work to themselves when they are not the author (in whole or in part) of the work, by omitting any references or quotations to the author or to the owner of the work;
- present any data that has been falsified or invented in any way;
- use the identity of the author, attributing the contents of and/or a resource to him/her, but without explicitly mentioning that they are not the author;
- appropriate the creative work of someone else and present it as their own;
- acquire excerpts of texts, images, results etc. from external sources by including them in their own work without mentioning the origins of the excerpts;
- summarise the original idea of an author by expressing it in their own words but omit quoting the source;
- cheat in an academic evaluation.

Plagiarism can occur in:

- an academic article or book;
- an exercise or a case study;
- a study or a report;
- a dissertation or a thesis;
- any document of which the student/participant is not, but purports to be the author.

Sanctions

Any student/participant having committed academic fraud, or having participated in it, will be sanctioned by the professor in charge of the course. The professor can apply 1st and 2nd level sanctions (detailed below). The professor will send a copy of the sanction to the student's/participant's programme. The student/participant will be informed/and or convoked by the programme director (or his/her representative) to a hearing prior to the possible convening of the Kedge Business School Disciplinary Council. In the case of a hearing of the Disciplinary Council, they can decide to apply 3rd and 4th level of sanctions.

Any student/participant guilty of academic fraud will receive one of the following sanctions:

- Applied by the professor in charge of the course, Kedge Business School faculty member (1st and 2nd level):
  - A grade of zero for the work concerned and a formal warning;
  - A grade of zero for the course or module concerned and a formal warning.
- Applied by Kedge Business School's Disciplinary Council (3rd and 4th level):
  - Suspension from the programme for one or two semesters;
  - Exclusion from the programme.

N.B.: Plagiarism within a partner institution can result in these sanctions being applied by Kedge Business School, notwithstanding partner's decision.
